COOPERATION WITH A MISSION

By Justin Johnson | AMS

Grace and peace to you in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. I'm thrilled to be on this journey with you & would love to connect with more of you as possible. I've had the privilege to get to know many pastors, ministry leaders, & members of our churches over the last couple of years and cultivate some wonderful relationships. Today, I hope to encourage each of you to foster a spirit of cooperation within our Association, recognizing the immense impact we can have when we come together for the sake of Christ.

Our call as Christians extends beyond the walls of our individual churches. It beckons us to love one another, serve our community, and spread the Gospel both near and far. While overseas missions are of great importance (another word on this later), let us not overlook the significance of our strategic location as a mission field right here at home! God has uniquely positioned us to meet people where they are, to be the hands and feet of Christ in our local community

The spirit of cooperation is the glue that binds us together. In our diversity, we find strength.

We have a unique opportunity to be a beacon of light, shining brightly in a world that is desperate for hope. By working together, we can more effectively address the needs of our community and fulfill the Great Commission as the Church.

I want to extend a heartfelt invitation to each one of you to actively participate in our monthly Executive Board meetings, held on the last Monday night of every month. Your presence, inspiration, and vision for our Association are not only needed but also eagerly welcomed by your brothers and sisters in Christ. It is through these gatherings that we collectively seek God's guidance for the future & lay the foundation to build upon for the generations to come.

Let us not underestimate the power of unity. Together, we can accomplish far more than we ever could apart. As we lock arms for the sake of God's Kingdom, may our collaborative efforts be a testimony to the love of Christ in our midst. Attend the Executive Board meetings, even if only to give it a shot, and discover the joy of being an integral part of something greater than ourselves.

May God continue to bless and guide us as we strive to love, serve, and spread the Gospel for His glory - together!
